A Postcard from the Future

By: Chief Judge Karen S. Jennemann

Do you remember the Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Florida in April 2015?

They had started this quest for uniformity back in 2011. Committees, staff, and attorneys all over the district were working so hard.

- The Steering Committee with the help of all four Chapter 13 Trustees met almost weekly in April to hash out their differing perspectives on ways to make Chapter 13 cases more similar.
- The Local Rules Advisory Committee with Judge Delano's leadership worked through dozens of suggestions from attorneys and staff on how to refine their total update to the District's local rules.
- IT Staff were overwhelmed implementing new efficiencies and traveling around the country demonstrating AQUA, a new program they designed to automatically distribute work evenly to all case managers throughout the entire district.

- Other groups, led by our Operations Deputy Raymond Waguespack, pushed hard to release eOrders, a way to simplify the submission and tracking of orders, in May 2015.
- The Supervisors met in Tampa to learn about ways to work with fewer people and across division lines.
- Three construction projects were underway in Tampa, Jacksonville, and Ft. Myers, all to reduce our rent and space.
- The Outreach Committee was working district wide to help those in need and to sponsor fun events, like a bowling competition and game days.
- The Training Committee was creating ways to “think district wide” at our district off-site in August 2015.
- The Website Committee was working to make the Court’s internal website just as impressive as the award winning external website.
- The folks putting this newsletter together created a survey for readers to give feedback and helped turn this “traditional” newsletter into a more accessible digital format.
- Attorneys throughout the district were volunteering to assist unrepresented parties and to help BLES start a district wide pro bono clinic.
- FAMU and Cooley Law Schools sponsored clinics to provide bankruptcy training for law students and to help more pro se parties.

And the work went on and on.

They almost gave up.

But they did not abandon their vision because of bumps in the road, a few heated discussions, and the hard work.

They kept discussing, learning, adapting, inventing, and improving this Court.

They endured when the tasks got harder.

They listened to new voices and concerns.

They identified and then implemented the best practices district wide.

They changed this Court from one of four divisions to a single district that is the model of bankruptcy courts nationwide. The decisions these wise people made in 2015 have positively affected the thousands of parties who visit our Court, the hundreds of lawyers and their staff who practice before this Court, and the valuable and flexible staff who work at this Court.

It was this group of fearless people working together in 2015 who embraced the vision of uniformity and had the courage and persistence to make it happen. Generations to come will thank them.

I have the highest regard and gratitude for the “above and beyond” effort so many people are devoting to this huge project. Thank you.

IWIRC RECEPTION HONORING CHIEF JUDGE KAREN K. SPECIE (ND/FL)

By: Courtney McCormick, Esquire, McGuire Woods, LLP

On February 20, 2015, the International Women’s Insolvency & Restructuring Confederation (IWIRC) and Chief Judge Karen S. Jennemann hosted a reception honoring Chief Judge Karen K. Specie of the Northern District of Florida at the Orlando office of Akerman LLP. The reception was organized by IWIRC Members Leyza Blanco, Lori Vaughn, and Denise Dell-Powell.

The reception was well attended, drawing Florida IWIRC members from all three districts, and included Judge Arthur B. Briskman and Judge Cynthia C. Jackson. At the reception, Chief Judge Specie was presented a plaque in recognition of her appointment to the bench. Donations were made to the Make-A-Wish Foundation in support of Chi Omega Sorority’s “Race, Love, Wish” 5-K event, in which Shannon Specie, Chief Judge Specie’s daughter, was participating. As Chief Judge Specie stated, the event was “truly the most enjoyable, and most personal, event of my term on the bench, and one of the most collegial professional gatherings I’ve attended in many years.”

IWIRC is an international organization whose goal is to connect women professionals in the insolvency and restructuring community. IWIRC was founded in 1993, and brought to Florida in 2003. Currently, close to seventy members form Florida’s IWIRC network, including Chief Judge Jennemann and Clerk of Court, Lee Ann Bennett.

CM/ECF e-Orders Coming Soon to a Division Near You

By: Christine Baker, CM/ECF Administrator and Mike Brown, Programmer Analyst

The Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Florida, in its on-going quest to achieve district-wide unity, will roll out a new electronic orders process in May called CM/ECF e-Orders. When you think of the word quest, you may envision an adventurous journey where one overcomes a series of obstacles and ultimately returns with the gift of knowledge and experience. The CM/ECF e-Orders quest was no exception. We acknowledged the operational pains of the current system, gathered the wants and needs for a new system, and will deliver a more user friendly process that will benefit both our Court staff and our external users.

What are the benefits of CM/ECF e-Orders?

- The submission process for all Judges will become uniform.
- Attorneys, Trustees and Court staff will have the ability to upload proposed orders directly into CM/ECF using navigational actions already familiar to users of the system.
- An improved tracking system will allow Attorneys and Trustees to easily determine the status of proposed orders they have submitted.
- Rejection notifications will go to both the primary and secondary e-mail addresses listed on the Attorney or Trustee's CM/ECF user account.
- Judges and Court staff can review, route, sign and docket in a more efficient manner and within one program.
- An electronic learning module will be available for training and review on April 22, 2015.

What changes will I need to make?

Section II of the Style Guide available on our website (www.flmb.uscourts.gov) is being modified to include the following new formatting requirements:

- A three-inch top margin on page one, with all other margins remaining one inch.
- Elimination of the date and signature lines.
- Except for consent orders, proposed orders should be saved to a PDF format directly from a word processing program such as Word or Word Perfect rather than scanning a printed copy of the document.

Important: If you have created Filing Agent accounts for your staff, you will need to update permissions for each Filing Agent giving them access to both "Attorney" and "E-Orders Attorney" or "Trustee/US Trustee" and "E-Orders Trustee" as applicable.

E-Orders Article (continued):What will a signed order look like?

The Judge's signature and signed date will now appear at the top of the first page instead of the traditional placement at the end of the order.

When will CM/ECF e-Orders go into effect?

- Implementation will begin in the Tampa and Fort Myers Divisions on May 4, 2015.
- Jacksonville will follow on May 11, 2015.
- Orlando will complete the transition on May 18, 2015.
- As each Division transitions, the submission portal on the website for those Judges will be disabled.

We are excited about the benefits CM/ECF e-Orders will bring. We hope you find the results of our quest to be a more efficient and effective method for submitting proposed orders.

* Survey ****

Coming Soon!
Debtor Electronic Bankruptcy Noticing (DeBN)
By: Gull Weaver, Deputy-in-Charge, Jacksonville Division

The United States Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of Florida will offer Debtors the opportunity to request receipt of orders and court-generated notices via email, instead of U.S. mail, through a program called “Debtor Electronic Bankruptcy Noticing” or “DeBN.”

DeBN provides the following advantages:

- Faster — Debtors will receive notices the same day they are filed by the court.
- Convenient — Debtors will be able to access their notices anywhere they have internet access.
- No more lost paperwork — Debtors can store notices on their computer meaning never losing a paper copy.
- Less paper clutter — Helps the environment and reduces paper clutter.
- It is FREE!

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9036, a party may make a written request for delivery of notices via email, instead of U.S. mail. Through the DeBN program, only orders and notices that have been entered by the court can be emailed to the debtor. Debtors requesting participation in the DeBN program must complete and file a Debtor’s Electronic Noticing Request (DeBN) form with the court where their case is filed.

Note: Only the court is authorized to send notices to the debtor through this DeBN program. All other parties, such as trustees and creditors, will continue to serve the debtor via U.S. mail or in person as required by court rules.

Preventing Orders Striking Due to Delay Between Docketing And the Filing of a Certificate of Service
By: U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Middle District of Florida

Delay between the filing of a certificate of service and the filing of a motion on the docket can cause that motion to be stricken or denied. Don’t let that happen to you. On March 10, 2015, the Court distributed an eBlast to all CM/ECF users notifying them of the necessity to file certificates of service contemporaneous with filing the motion on the docket. The Court reiterates the sentiment here.

Proofs of service may appear on or be affixed to the paper served or may be filed separately. To avoid denial, striking, or abatement of a motion due to delay in filing the certificate of service, attorneys or their staff should file the certificate of service on CM/ECF immediately after filing the paper to be served. The Court is aware some third-party service companies may take a few days to effect service. In these circumstances, the Court recommends waiting to file the underlying paper on CM/ECF until the certificate of service is completed. Then, both documents can be filed together.

Heeding these guidelines will aid the Court in efficiently and effectively disposing of motions and other filings.

THE MEDIATION MINUTE

By: Bradley M. Saxton, Esq., Winderweedle, Haines, Ward & Woodman, P.A.

In 2013, the Judges of the Middle District adopted new Local Rule 9019-2 to respond to the development of the mediation process in the Middle District. The Mediation Minute will be a regular feature of The Court Connection which will address some select mediation topics. This first edition will briefly introduce Local Rule 9019 -2 and reference the ethical rules applicable in mediation.

Mediation has become increasingly common in the bankruptcy courts in the Middle District. Parties are either voluntarily submitting to mediation, or are directed to mediate by the Court. Mediation can occur in all types of adversary proceedings, contested matters, and plan confirmation disputes. Of course, in consumer cases, the Middle District has been a leader in mortgage modification mediation (MMM) which has been especially useful and effective and the Court has adopted uniform procedures for MMM. Parties participating in MMM should be aware of the Court's specific procedures for those mediations. All other mediations are governed by Local Rule 9019-2.

All parties participating in a mediation should familiarize themselves with Local Rule 9019-2. Additionally, the parties, and especially mediators, should be aware that Local Rule 9019-2(d) provides that “[a]ll mediators who mediate in cases pending in this District, whether or not certified under the rules adopted by the Supreme Court of Florida, shall be governed by standards of professional conduct and ethical rules adopted by the Supreme Court of Florida for Circuit Court Mediators.”

What are these standards and rules? These are the Florida Rules for Certified and Circuit Court-Appointed Mediators, Rules 10.100 through 10.900, which were originally adopted in May, 1992 (“Florida Mediator Rules”). As set forth in Rule 10.200, the Florida Mediator Rules “provide ethical standards of conduct for certified and court-appointed mediators. They are intended to both guide mediators in the performance of their services and instill public confidence in the medication process.” These rules define mediation as “a process whereby a neutral and impartial third person acts to encourage and facilitate the resolution of a dispute without prescribing what it should be. It is an informed and non-adversarial process intended to help disputing parties reach a mutually acceptable agreement.”

As described in the Committee Notes, the rules “include a collection of specific ethical concerns involving a mediator’s responsibility to the parties to a dispute.” A sampling of these ethical concerns and concepts, which are described in much more detail, including some expansive committee notes, within the Florida Mediator Rules, are the following:

- Self-determination—of the principal concepts of mediation is that it is the parties who are to decide how to settle the case, without coercion, but with the assistance of a neutral facilitator
- Awareness of the interest of parties who are not participants to the mediation—this concept, which is often discussed in the context of family law disputes where the mediator must, for example, promote awareness of the interests of the children who may not be involved directly as participants in the mediation, also has application in bankruptcy disputes where the interests of other creditors is a common issue
- Impartiality—another fundamental concept, this is described as “freedom from favoritism or bias in word, action, or appearance, and includes a commitment to assist all parties, as opposed to any one individual

- Conflicts of Interest
- Confidentiality of information
- Professional advice or opinions – the Florida Mediator Rules permit a mediator to “provide information” to the parties and, “consistent with standards of impartiality and preserving party self determination” the mediator “may point out possible outcomes of the case and discuss the merits of a claim or defense”, but the mediator “shall not offer a personal or professional opinion as to how the court ... will resolve the dispute”

The Florida Mediator Rules have been applicable to mediations in Florida for over twenty years. Florida has been a leader in formulating the concepts applicable to mediations in the state courts. Mediation in bankruptcy court is expanding and the process should benefit from the substantial development of these concepts over the years. Mediators in bankruptcy cases should be aware of Local Rule 9019-2 and the overlay of the Florida Mediator Rules which can assist the mediator in understanding the role of the mediator and help guide the mediator when specific ethical concerns arise.

Future editions of the “Mediation Minute” will focus on select issues that arise in mediations so that all mediation participants can continue to learn about this unique process which should continue to successfully resolve many disputes and relieve some of the strain on the busy bankruptcy courts in the Middle District of Florida.

Bradley M. Saxton served as the Chair of the subcommittee of the Local Rules Committee which drafted proposed amendments to Local Rule 9019-2.

What's the Big Deal? Why Details Matter in "Emergency Matters"

By: Lisa Scotten, Law Clerk to Hon. Catherine Peek McEwen

Does your chapter 11 corporate client need court authority by the end of the day on Thursday to make payroll on Friday? Is your financial institution client seeking immediate stay relief to protect set-off rights by freezing accounts that a debtor has drained? Is the home of your chapter 13 consumer client subject to a foreclosure sale three days from now? If so, a hearing may be requested on an emergency basis. Local Rule 9004-2(d) describes situations requiring emergency hearings as those in which "direct, immediate and substantial harm will occur to the interest of an entity in property, to the bankruptcy estate, or to the debtor's ability to reorganize if the parties are not able to obtain an immediate resolution of any dispute."

This rule also explains that the Court will not act upon an emergency motion unless the motion is docketed with a certificate of necessity in the form available from the Clerk's office. Attorneys can access this form, titled Certification of Necessity, through the Court's "Emergency Matters" procedures at:

<http://pacer.flmb.uscourts.gov/cmecf/emergency.asp>. The Certification of Necessity includes a "fill-in-the-blank" section that reads: "I CERTIFY FURTHER that there is a true necessity for an emergency hearing, specifically because [the moving party ...] seeks [brief statement of relief requested] and requires a hearing prior to [date] for the following reason: [brief statement of reason why the matter must be hearing on any emergency basis]." (Emphasis added.)

The Court's online "Emergency Matters" procedures also require attorneys to alert the Clerk's office of an emergency filing by submitting an online form that gives the attorney's name and contact information, the name of the judge presiding over the case, the case name and number, and a detailed description of the emergency matter at issue. Submission of this online form sends an e-mail message directly to the Courtroom Deputy who, upon review of the emergency motion and Certification of Necessity, can confer with the judge about scheduling the requested hearing. Because the daily hearing calendars of most bankruptcy judges within the Middle District of Florida are frequently filled from 9:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. (with matters set for hearing weeks or even months in advance), finding hearing time for emergency matters is no easy task. The "drop dead" date upon or before which a particular emergency hearing is needed is, therefore, critical information for the Courtroom Deputy. Yet, attorneys regularly fail to use the proper Certification of Necessity form and omit this vital information. The Courtroom Deputy must then find a break in between courtroom duties to contact the submitting attorney, request this information, and wait for a response before conferring with the judge about scheduling the hearing. Such omissions create unnecessary delay in a process specially designed to deal with highly time-sensitive matters in the most expeditious manner possible.

To date, the Court has not strictly enforced the requirement that attorneys use the current form of Certification of Necessity and provide the date upon or before which a requested emergency hearing is needed. However, to better serve clients and maximize court efficiency, the Court may soon reject non-compliant Certifications of Necessity. If a matter warrants emergency treatment, it warrants use of procedures purposefully tailored to afford such treatment. In "Emergency Matters," the details matter.

News from the District Wide Steering Committee

By: Jill E. Kelso, Trial Attorney and Appellate Coordinator, Region 21,
Orlando Office of the United States Trustee

The District-Wide Steering Committee, whose members include representatives of the Court, the Clerk's Office, and the Office of the United States Trustee, as well as Chapter 13 trustees, Chapter 7 trustees, and private practitioners representing debtors, creditors and trustees, has continued its regular monthly meetings in an effort to assist the Court in evaluating and proposing new policies and procedures to be implemented District-wide.

Last year, the Committee made recommendations to the judges regarding uniform procedures in adversary proceedings. On December 18, 2014, Chief Judge Jennemann signed Administrative Order FLMB-2014-10 Prescribing Procedures for Adversary Proceedings. This Administrative Order establishes uniform procedures in adversary proceedings filed throughout the District after February 1, 2015, and can be obtained on the Court's website at the following link: <http://pacer.flmb.uscourts.gov/administrativeorders/DataFileOrder.asp?FileID=41>.

We are now focusing our efforts on recommending uniformity in Chapter 13 practices and procedures and have established a Sub-Committee, comprising Doug Neway, Brad Hissing, Hunter Goff, Lorne Durket, and Kelly Remick, to assist with this purpose. We are currently working on proposing a uniform Order Establishing (1) Duties of Trustee and Debtor, (2) Plan Confirmation Procedures, (3) Requirements for Debtor's Compliance, (4) Procedures for Allowance of Administrative Expenses, and (5) Procedures for Adequate Protection Payments to Secured Creditors ("OED"). In doing so, we have considered input from participants at the 2014 Bench-Bar Conference, the Chapter 13 trustees, Steering Committee members, and practitioners throughout the District.

Next, we will turn our efforts to evaluating and proposing a uniform Chapter 13 Confirmation Order, followed by a uniform Chapter 13 Plan. We will present the proposed Chapter 13 OED, Confirmation Order, and Plan to the judges for their consideration during their May meeting.

The Steering Committee invites you to share any comments or suggestions you may have on these Chapter 13 matters. Please feel free to do so by contacting the Steering Committee's Chairperson, Elena Ketchum, at eketchum@srbp.com or hportales@srbp.com, or any other member: Ellsworth Summers, Jeanne Kraft, Brian Zinn, Lorne Durket, Brad Hissing, Andrea Bauman, Doug Neway, Denise Barnett, Jason Burgess, Justin Luna, David Fineman, Hunter Goff, Keith Appleby, Robert Thomas, Kelly Remick, and Jill Kelso.

The Steering Committee will meet at noon generally on the second Thursday of each month on these dates:

April 9	October 8
July 9	November 4 (tentative Bench Bar Conference)
August 13	December 10
September 10

Members of the Steering Committee Recognize Committee Chairperson, Elena Paras Ketchum

On behalf of all members of the Steering Committee, we would like to recognize and thank our chairperson, Elena Paras Ketchum, for her tireless efforts in effectively guiding the Committee through our meetings and deliberations in proposing new uniform procedures. Under her direction, the Committee has made multiple recommendations for the judges to consider implementing various district-wide procedures, including, most recently, procedures governing relief from stay, Rule 2004 examinations, reaffirmation agreements, and adversary proceedings.

For those of you who do not know Ms. Ketchum, she is a shareholder at Stichter Riedel Blain & Prosser, P.A. in Tampa and specializes in the representation of debtors, creditors, guarantors, buyers, and other parties in bankruptcy cases, out-of-court workouts, and state court proceedings. She also represents clients in negotiating and documenting complex commercial transactions. Ms. Ketchum has represented debtors in Chapter 11 cases involving such industries as manufacturing, retail, healthcare, printing, grocery and construction. In addition, she has been lead counsel in out-of-court workouts of loans totaling more than $700 million dollars. Ms. Ketchum has represented clients in negotiating and drafting asset purchase agreements, real estate documentation, workout agreements, and loan modification agreements, and navigating “Assignments for the Benefit of Creditors” under Chapter 727 of the Florida Statutes.

Through her leadership and participation on the Committee, Ms. Ketchum has exemplified professionalism and decorum, enabling the Committee to make significant contributions to the practice of bankruptcy in the Middle District of Florida.

Meet Shari Streit Jansen, Tampa Chapter 7 Trustee (Retired)

By: Cindy Burnette, Assistant United States Trustee

Shari's Chapter 2, Happy Retirement from Chapter 7 Panel

Shari Streit Jansen was appointed to the Tampa panel of chapter 7 trustees on June 1, 1997. Originally from Michigan, Shari is licensed to practice law in both Florida and Michigan. After receiving her undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan, she attended Wayne State University Law School. Shari began her law career in 1983, practicing at a small firm in Detroit, Michigan in the areas of labor law and social security disability.

Shari moved to the Sunshine State in 1984 and opened her own private practice, dealing mostly with corporate and transactional work for small businesses and debtor bankruptcies. After becoming a chapter 7 trustee in 1997, she spent the next 17 ½ years commuting from Sarasota to Tampa or Ft. Myers at least twice a week and administered thousands of cases in one of the busiest bankruptcy districts in the country. Upon reflection of her time as trustee, Shari states: “I enjoyed being a trustee as it gave me the opportunity to work with some really great attorneys, both those who represented the bankruptcy estates on my behalf and members of the debtor bar who had their clients appear in front of me each week. I was also fortunate to have experienced our terrific Middle District of Florida judges during both my practice representing debtors and as a trustee. I count myself lucky to have spent my early years as a trustee learning bankruptcy in front of Judge Alexander Paskay, while working as a trustee in both Tampa and Ft. Myers, and to have experienced the courtroom side of trustee practice from Judge Paskay, Judge Thomas Baynes and Judge Paul Glenn.”

Last year in 2014, Shari decided it was time for a career change and to retire from her trusteeship. It was time for Chapter 2 of her career. She is no longer receiving new cases as a trustee and is in the process of closing out her case inventory. Shari returned to graduate school and is studying for a Masters Degree in Clinical Licensed Mental Health Care. Although admitting to always being the oldest student in class and sometimes older than the professor, she is loving every minute of the change in direction. Shari hopes, after graduating, to reopen her private practice, specializing in adults who are struggling with middle life and vocational adjustment issues.

While there is not much time between closing a law practice and going to school, she has had an opportunity to travel outside the country for some extended periods of time, which wasn't possible while being a chapter 7 trustee. In speaking about her newfound freedom and reflecting on her life, Shari states, “I am trying hard not to let school interfere too much with my husband's and my travel agenda, as all three of my sons are now grown and out of the house. It's a great time to be able to travel. Whether at home or traveling, my passion is swimming and I swim almost every day of the year – weather having become irrelevant over the years. Fortunately, Florida is warm most days and I get to swim outside – either with a masters group of swimmers or by myself. Although I will miss seeing so many people who were a daily part of my practice as a trustee, I am excited about my new adventure and as you all get older, perhaps you can come see me in my practice and I can give you some positive encouragement about making fundamental life changes. It is a blast!”

Iberiabank v. Geisen

--- F.3d ----, 2015 WL 294269 (11th Cir. Jan. 23, 2015)

Basic release language in confirmed chapter 11 plan was sufficient to eliminate claims against principal, especially because the plan detailed the contributions of the principal to the plan. Release affirmed by Eleventh Circuit.

In re Roberts-Dude

--- Fed. Appx. -----, 2015 WL 545463 (11th Cir. Feb. 11, 2015)

Discusses in some detail the “justifiable reliance” element of a fraud claim under section 523(a)(2)(A). The Court concluded that a title company’s reliance upon the debtor’s misrepresentations when it issued a title insurance policy was justified. The debtor misrepresented that there were no liens on the property.

In re Fisher Island Investments

--- F.3d ----, 2015 WL 729689 (11th Cir. Feb. 20, 2015)

Bankruptcy court had constitutional authority to render final decision on who owned putative debtor for purposes of determining whether an involuntary petition was consented to or contested.

In re Rosenberg

--- F.3d ----, 2015 WL 845578 (11th Cir. Feb. 27, 2015)

Eleventh Circuit addressed several different aspects of fee awards in the involuntary petition context. Award of fees and costs following dismissal of an involuntary petition for prosecuting bad faith claim for damages is within the discretion of the bankruptcy court. Fees could also be awarded for defending dismissal on appeal.

In re Seaside Engineering & Surveying, Inc.

--- F.3d ----, 2015 WL 1061718 (11th Cir. March 12, 2015)

Eleventh Circuit affirmed non-debtor releases contained in chapter 11 plan. Bankruptcy court had authority to enter non-debtor releases or bar orders and did not abuse its discretion in doing so.

In re International Management Assocs., LLC

2015 WL 1245503 (11th Cir. March 19, 2015)

Eleventh Circuit held that bankruptcy court did not abuse its discretion in admitting summaries of documents prepared by trustee in a Ponzi scheme case. The trustee’s summaries were based upon the debtor’s business records, which were recovered by the trustee from the debtor’s business. The court held that the underlying documents were admissible under the business records exception.

Case Law Update (continued):District Court Cases*JY Creative Holdings v. McHale

2015 WL 541692 (M.D. Fla. Feb. 10, 2015) (Moody, J.)

Receiver appointed by district court in action arising from breach of commercial loan documents had authority over corporate debtors and had the power to put the corporate debtors into voluntary chapter 11 cases. Owner of the debtors sought dismissal, but was denied. The district court affirmed denial of the motion to dismiss.

In re Organized Confusion

2015 WL 728223 (M.D. Fla. Feb. 19, 2015) (Bucklew, J.)

After thorough analysis of applicable standard, district court denied motion to withdraw the reference from the bankruptcy court in seven related adversary proceedings concerning fraudulent transfers where plaintiff-trustee requested a jury trial. All aspects of the adversary proceedings remained with the bankruptcy court, and if the jury trial issue arose, the district court would address it at that time.

Bankruptcy Court CasesAccel Motorsports Inc. v. Rosario (In re Rosario)

2015 WL 232427 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. Jan. 13, 2015) (Jennemann, J.)

Car dealer sought entry of a default judgment against the debtor/defendant determining that its $124,400 state court default judgment was nondischargeable under §§ 523(a)(2)(A) and (a)(6). Court afforded collateral estoppel effect to state court judgment with respect to the fraud and conversion portion of the state court judgment. However, the court also held car dealer failed to establish a basis for determining the portion of the judgment related to $75,300 of worthless checks transferred after the defendant took possession of the related vehicles was nondischargeable because plaintiff failed to show its justifiable reliance on the worthless checks.

Galaz v. Monson, II (In re Monson, II)

522 B.R. 721 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. Jan. 9, 2015) (Glenn, J.)

Plaintiff creditor alleged that debt owed to it was not dischargeable pursuant to sections 523(a)(2), (4), and (6), arguing that a start-up loan to debtor for an internet business was procured by fraud or that the debtor caused willful and malicious injury to the creditor and its property. After holding an evidentiary hearing, the court determined that the debt was not dischargeable as a willful and malicious injury to the creditor's right to collect by removing equipment and using the equipment in a new business without the creditor's knowledge or permission.

Case Law Update (continued):In re Trussel

2015 WL 1058253 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. March 5, 2015) (Jennemann, J.)

Secured creditor was not entitled to injunctive relief compelling debtor to surrender property and cease asserting affirmative defenses in the foreclosure action. Evidence presented did not support argument that debtor failed to comply with his duties under section 521 regarding statement of intentions. Debtor attempted to reaffirm the debt, but could not reach an agreement with the creditor. The creditor's desire to "short-circuit" the debtor's legitimate defenses was not grounds for the relief the creditor requested.

COURT COMMITTEE REPORTS

Procedures Drafting Committee Update

By: Sara Mason

The Procedures Drafting Committee has finalized its draft of the Conversion from Chapter 7 to Chapter 13, Conversion from Chapter 11 to Chapter 7, Motion to Sell/Motion to Sell Free and Clear and Motion for Turnover/Motion for Turnover of Property Procedures. These procedures have either been sent back to Raymond, after review by the originating Procedures Group, or are currently being reviewed by the originating group before being sent back to Raymond.

The Committee met to discuss the Motion to File Documents under Seal and Sealed Document procedures. Because of the potential to move toward an electronic process, the Committee, without drafting a procedure, sent a memo requesting management and judicial input on the direction of the procedure.

We are currently working on the procedures for Schedules and Statements filed after the Petition.

In addition, we have received Division information on Chapter 12 Case Opening, Motion to Modify Confirmed Plan, Motion for 2004 Exam/Notice of 2004 Exam, Motion for Writ, Chapter 11 Case Closing, Motion/Notice of Abandonment, Motion to Sever and Adversary Proceeding Closing. We will review this information and begin drafting these procedures in the order in which the topics were received.

Website Committee

By: Sarah Wiener

The website committee is still hard at work improving the intranet or internal court website, as it is also known. The committee is reviewing suggestions and reorganizing and reviewing additional features and content for the new and improved site. The committee voted and decided on using the Administrative Office (AO) template which allows for easier updates, site maintenance, and accessibility for the users. It is the desire of the committee to debut this wonderfully improved resource to all of you in the near future. Stay tuned for more!

Dear POINT AND CLICK:

Dear Point and Click:

Question: I often have difficulty locating an event in CM/ECF that corresponds with the document I am filing. Sometimes, even when I think I have chosen the correct event, my office receives a phone call from the Clerk's Office or a Corrective Entry alerting us to the fact that we've used the wrong event. How can I verify there is no better event to use?

Answer: Though there is no full-proof method to confirm the selection of the correct CM/ECF filing event, using the Search option before filing your documents can help reduce the risk of making an incorrect event selection.

② Enter all or part of the name of the document title in the search box. Search Tip: Enter words that will eliminate other similar events and do not use the "main" document type, i.e., Motion, Notice or Application. Instead, search using the type of Motion, Notice or Application. For example, if you have a document titled Application to Employ, search using Employ not Application.

③ CM/ECF will display a list of events which contain the word or string of words entered in the search box and the menu under which the event can be found:
