

(Judge Glenn's favorite poem, as read at his memorial service)

From Ithaca by the Greek poet Constantine Cavafy:

When you set out on your journey to Ithaca,
pray that the road is long,
full of adventure, full of knowledge.

Do not fear the ...
... Cyclops and the angry Poseidon ...

[Pray] that the summer mornings are many, when,
with such pleasure, with such joy
you will enter ports seen for the first time;
stop at Phoenician markets,
and purchase fine merchandise,

visit many Egyptian cities,
to learn and learn from scholars.

Always keep Ithaca in your mind.
To arrive there is your ultimate goal.
But do not hurry the voyage at all.
It is better to let it last for many years;
and to anchor at the island when you are old,
rich with all you have gained on the way,
not expecting that Ithaca will offer you riches.

Ithaca has given you the beautiful voyage.
